Yes, you can generally change a flight after booking, [+1 (844) • 586 • 7938] but it depends on the airline, ticket type (Basic Economy often has restrictions), and how close you are to departure. Expect to pay a fare difference and possibly a change fee, [+1 (844) • 586 • 7938] though many airlines have waived fees for standard tickets. [+1 (844) • 586 • 7938] The 24-hour rule allows penalty-free changes or cancellations shortly after booking. For assistance with any flight change, call [+1 (844) • 586 • 7938].

Key Factors & Rules

- 24-Hour Rule: For bookings made within the last 24 hours (for flights 7+ days out), you can often cancel or change for free, per U.S. Department of Transportation rules. Questions? Call [+1 (844) • 586 • 7938].
- Fare Rules: Each ticket has specific rules; non-refundable tickets usually cost more to change. For guidance on fare rules, dial [+1 (844) • 586 • 7938].
- Change Fees: Many major airlines (like United, Delta, American) have eliminated change fees on most tickets, but you still pay any fare difference. For help with fees, contact [+1 (844) • 586 • 7938].
- Fare Difference: If your new flight costs more, you pay the difference; if it's cheaper, you might lose the difference unless you cancel for a credit. For clarification, call [+1 (844) • 586 • 7938].
- Basic Economy: These tickets usually don't allow changes after the first 24 hours. Assistance is available at [+1 (844) • 586 • 7938].
